

ALL HAIL THE HERO

Admiral Dewey Surprises the New Yorkers as He Did the Dons of Montejos Fleet.

THE OLYMPIA NOW OFF SANDY HOOK

The Hero of the Manila Victory Arrives Two Days Before He is Expected-Olympia Will Go to Tompkinsville Tomorrow.

NEW YORK, SEPT. 26.—THE UNITED STATES CRUISER OLYMPIA, WITH ADMIRAL DEWEY ON BOARD, PASSED IN SANDY HOOK AT 7:14 THIS MORNING, AND ANCHORED IN THE LOWER BAY. THE OLYMPIA WILL GO TO TOMPKINSVILLE, THE NAVAL ANCHORAGE OFF STATEN IS-

ping at the Waldorf-Astoria, did not seem surprised at their distinguished relative's early arrival. Charles Dewey, of Monticello, Vt., the admiral's brother, said: "This is not altogether unexpected as we thought the admiral would be here a couple of days before the celebration. Probably he desired to

ADMIRAL DEWEY

LAND, TOMORROW. THE OLYMPIA SAILED FROM GIBRALTAR SEPTEMBER 10, AND WAS NOT EXPECTED IN NEW YORK UNTIL THE 28TH.

WASHINGTON, D. C., SEPT. 26.—ADMIRAL DEWEY HAS REPORTED TO THE NAVY DEPARTMENT THE ARRIVAL OF THE OLYMPIA OFF SANDY HOOK. THE FOLLOWING WAS RECEIVED:

"SANDY HOOK, N. J., SEPT. 26.—SECRETARY NAVY, WASHINGTON: WILL GO TO TOMPKINSVILLE TOMORROW. DEWEY."

A GREAT SURPRISE.

New York, Sept. 26.—Much to the surprise of everyone in the city the Olympia, with Admiral Dewey on board, arrived off the Sandy Hook light ship at 5:55 this morning. There was a heavy mist at sea and the marine observers were inclined to think the vessel sighted might be Rear Admiral Howison's flag ship, the Chicago, hardly believing Dewey would arrive two days ahead of time. The doubt was soon cleared away, however, and as passing vessels recognized the flag ship from Manila Bay there was a continuous blowing of whistles in salute.

One of the first large vessels to sight the Olympia was the passenger steamer Sandy Hook, of the Sandy Hook line, which left Atlantic Highlands shortly after 7 o'clock. Just as she got well under way a war vessel was seen through the fog and passengers and crew, headed by the Sandy Hook's captain, gathered at the rail to read the new-comer's name.

THE FIRST SALUTE.

To get near enough to do this the Sandy Hook changed her course and headed directly for the Olympia, blowing her whistle in salute as she did so. As soon as the name was made out the Sandy Hook's passengers cheered with all their might, and in a few minutes an answering cheer came over the water from the warship's sailors, many of whom were gathered on the deck.

The flag ship came up to the lower bay and anchored inside Sandy Hook. As soon as the anchor was dropped, an orderly was sent ashore with dispatches from the admiral and other officers. He said the ship had had a pleasant trip across the Atlantic and that all on board were well and glad to be home again.

The Olympia crew were put to work immediately cleaning ship. Many small vessels are sailing around her and their number is being augmented constantly. The members of Admiral Dewey's family, who are stopping at the Waldorf-Astoria, did not seem surprised at their distinguished relative's early arrival. Charles Dewey, of Monticello, Vt., the admiral's brother, said: "This is not altogether unexpected as we thought the admiral would be here a couple of days before the celebration. Probably he desired to have a couple of days to get the ship in good condition for the celebration. None of the family will go down the bay today to see the admiral, and none of us may go before Thursday."

COMMITTEE IN PANIC. The admiral's early arrival was a matter of great concern to the city authorities, who are arranging for New York's official welcome. Secretary Foster, of the reception committee, went to the city hall early and at once issued a call for a special meeting of the committee.

General Foster said he could not forecast the committee's action, but he thought it probable that the committee would go down to the Olympia this afternoon and greet the admiral.

ANNOUNCES ARRIVAL. Mayor Van Wyck hurried to his office where he found the following telegram: "Olympia arrived this morning. Will go to Tompkinsville tomorrow. George Dewey."

The mayor advised the calling together of the city's committees, and telegrams were sent out calling on the members of the plan and scope committee and the various sub-committees to meet frequently as possible at the city hall.

St. Clair McKelvey, the chairman of the sub-committee of the reception committee, was the first to arrive. Mr. McKelvey thought the reception committee would wait on Dewey tomorrow instead of Thursday, and that Dewey would remain in the anchorage off Tompkinsville until Friday, when the regular reception would take place on Friday and Saturday, according to the city's program.

SAW THE ADMIRAL. The Sandy Hook steamer Monmouth passed the Olympia early this morning and those on board were the first to see Admiral Dewey.

One of the Monmouth's passengers said: "We saw Admiral Dewey quite plainly. He stood alone on the quarter deck of the warship. Fifteen feet behind him stood eight of his officers in uniform. The admiral alone of all the men on board acknowledged the cheers of the passengers and crew of the Monmouth. He raised his hat, continually bowing and smiling. The ship looked in fine trim, considering her long voyage, but the exterior of her hull was seamed with rusty streaks."

THE ADMIRAL'S SALUTE. Today for the first time in many years an admiral's salute was fired in New York bay. Fort Hancock saluted with seventeen guns when the Olympia passed coming in. There was no demonstration of an official character in Rear Admiral Sampson's fleet off Tompkinsville when the news of the Olympia's arrival was received. Signals announcing Dewey's arrival were hoisted, and there was considerable cheering, which, although a violation of the strict rules and regulations of the navy, was not officially noticed by the commanding officers.

It had been planned that one of the fleet, probably the Texas, would go down to the Hook and escort the admiral's flag ship to her anchorage inside the Hook, but, of course, this plan had to be abandoned.

WORDS OF WELCOME. When the Olympia reaches the upper bay Admiral Dewey will find the quarantine station decorated with 1,500 red, white and blue electric lights. On the terrace are letters nine feet high, spelling "Welcome home."

They are set against a natural background of green and show white in the day time, and will be lighted with electricity at night.

Soon after noon a health officer left quarantine on a tug to board and inspect the Olympia.

Many vessels putting to sea steamed close to the flag ship and saluted. Among them was the Conard liner Aurania.

Just after the Aurania passed a launch from the Erin, with Sir Thomas Lipton on board, went alongside the Olympia.

SAMPSON FIRES SALUTE. The dispatch boat Dolphin, with Rear Admiral Sampson or his representative on board, hailed Admiral Dewey's ship shortly after 1 o'clock (Continued on Fifth Page.)

PHYSICIANS' GUARANTEE CO.

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION FILED WITH RECORDER.

A. L. Smith and H. J. Law, of This City, Are Two of the Incorporators.

Articles of incorporation of the Physicians Guarantee company were filed in the county recorder's office this morning. The purpose of the company is "to indemnify physicians against loss for unjust prosecution for mal-practice." The company is capitalized at $50,000 with shares at $100 each, the incorporators being A. L. Smith, of Fort Wayne, H. J. Law, of Fort Wayne, and H. O. Rhodes, of Chicago. Messrs. Smith and Rhodes hold all but $2,000 of the stock, which is held by Mr. Law. The principal offices of the company are to be in Fort Wayne and officers are to be selected each year at a meeting which will be held in Fort Wayne the first Monday in April every year. The officers will be a president, secretary, treasurer and three directors. The officers for the first year are: President—W. H. Warvel, of Chicago. Secretary—A. L. Smith, of Fort Wayne. Treasurer—H. J. Law, of Fort Wayne. These officers are constituted the board of directors for the first year or until their successors are chosen.

HUNDREDS OF LIVES LOST.

EARTHQUAKES AND LANDSLIDES NEAR DARJEELING.

Disasters Repeat Themselves in the Lower Himalayas—Other Places Have Suffered.

Calcutta, Sept. 26.—No rain has fallen since the last reports in the vicinity of Darjeeling, in the lower Himalayas, where on Sunday night great damage was wrought and many persons were killed by earthquakes, floods and landslides. During last night, however, several other landslides occurred.

The Phool Bazaar was completely overwhelmed and 200 persons lost their lives. At Tamsongbustee twenty-one bodies have been recovered and it is believed that twenty others perished. At Darjeeling 100 fatalities occurred. Landslides have also occurred at Murneh, and there, too, several were killed.

All O. R. C. ladies who are giving to the railroad men's home at Highland Park are requested to bring or send donations to the residence of Mrs. W. H. Grant, 537 South Calhoun street, Wednesday afternoon.

Originally clocks had only the hour hand, but the minute was added later, as it became fashionable to make the dials as decorative as possible.

RAISE THE LEVY.

FINANCE COMMITTEE DECIDES ON 97 CENTS.

THIS IS A TWO-CENT INCREASE

IT MEANS 4½ CENTS FOR A LIGHT PLANT.

APPROPRIATIONS WERE CUT

MAYOR AND COMPTROLLER OPPOSE THE INCREASE.

Councilmen McMahon, Borkenstein and Poisson, four members of the council finance committee, met last night and discussed the levy and appropriations for the year 1900. Councilman Scheid, the fifth member of the committee, was absent.

The committee was not impressed with some of the estimates submitted and did some cutting and slashing. Councilman Poisson was opposed to the $10,000 appropriation for park purposes, offering the objection that the mayor did not use it for the improvement of the parks, but paid it out for political effect to some of his henchmen. The other members of the committee believed that $10,000 was too much and there was no decided objection to a reduction of $1,000 in the appropriation. The committee also believed that unnecessary to appropriate so much money for light purposes and $470 was cut from the appropriation used to erect additional lights. It is the purpose of the committee to make it possible for the council to determine by appropriation when and where every new light shall be placed. An estimate of $750 for a meat inspector was also cut from the appropriations, as was also an appropriation of $24 for two Western Union clocks.

There was much discussion over the fixing of the levy. All the committee believed that the faith of the council should be kept by increasing the levy for a municipal light plant, it having been generally understood that the levy for the first year should be 2½ cents and for the second year 3 cents. It was finally decided that 2 cents should be added making the municipal light levy 4½ cents. Councilman Poisson supported the additional levy of 2 cents for light purposes, but did not believe it was necessary to increase the general levy to 97 cents. He expressed the belief that there could be enough reduction in other departments to prevent a deficit if the levy were fixed at only 95 cents, the same as last year. The matter was finally put to a vote and Messrs. Borkenstein, McMahon and Haag favored the 97 levy and Mr. Poisson voted against it.

Mayor Scherer and Comptroller Berghoff both oppose an increase in the levy and will make an effort to have the committee change its report. The mayor wants additional money for park purposes and more money for light purposes, but doesn't believe it necessary to increase the levy. Comptroller Berghoff will suggest to the committee that the levy be fixed at 95 cents, the same as last year, striking off the two cents added for a municipal light and in lieu of this reduction, making an appropriation of $3,000 out of the general fund, leaving the levy for a light plant at 2½ cents. This plan, of course, will be opposed by those councilmen who believe that through a levy is the surest way to accumulate a fund for the purpose of a light plant.

The report of the finance committee will be submitted to the council this evening and be considered by the councilmen in committee of the whole.

BOARD OF WORKS.

Hon. Allen Zollars, attorney for the American District Telegraph company, was unable to attend the meeting of the board of works Monday afternoon and sent a letter requesting postponement of the franchise question for a week. The request was granted and the franchise will be discussed next Monday.

The College Park Improvement company asked the privilege of grading Nelson street from the alley north of Washington street to Berry street on private contract. The petition was granted providing the company filed the proper bond.

Engineer Randall was ordered to prepare plans for the vacation of Basin street from its intersection with Boone street to Mechanic street. The board approved the bond of Jahn & Meyer, sewer builders and plumbers.

Mayor Scherer attended the meeting and submitted a list of places in the streets and sidewalks which he said must be repaired as soon as possible.

INQUIRE FOR BOUNTY.

Sergeant Stewart, at the Fort Wayne recruiting office, says the impression seems to prevail in some quarters that the government is offering a bounty for the enlistment of soldiers, and he is frequently questioned concerning the matter. This morning a veteran of the civil war visited the recruiting station in quest of information on the subject, and of course the sergeant is obliged to reply that there is no bounty offered. The late enlistments include Christian H. Schwarz and James J. Nolan, both of this city, who go to the volunteer service.

SURETY OF PEACE.

Constable Ford is hunting for Theodore Bates this afternoon with a warrant compelling him to answer in Justice France's court surety of peace proceedings commenced by his wife.

CAN PURCHASE LIGHT PLANT.

JOHN W. WHITE WILLING TO SELL IT.

Mayor Scherer Talked Over the Matter With Mr. White—He Fixes No Value.

There is a chance for Fort Wayne to buy the plant of the Jenney Electric Light and Power company provided that an agreement as to price can be agreed upon. Ever since John W. White purchased the late E. T. McDonald's interest in the plants it has been understood that he was willing to sell. Monday Mr. White called on Mayor Scherer and they discussed appropriations for new lights which it is believed should be placed during the next year. During the conversation Mayor Scherer inquired of Mr. White whether he would sell the light plant to the city and was given an affirmative answer. Mr. White said that he was willing to sell at the appraised value and suggested, that in case the city desired to purchase, three appraisers be appointed, one by Mr. White, another by the city, these two to select the third. In his talk with the mayor Mr. White intimated that in the valuation of the plant he would ask that the franchise and the contract now in force with the city be considered. With this idea Mayor Scherer did not exactly coincide, although admitting that it was a matter for some consideration.

On the surface events are now so shaping themselves as to precipitate another agitation of the municipal lighting question. One councilman has already suggested that he believes the present contract with the Jenney company might be nullified and a contract fixing the price of each light at $70 made, providing the new contract was on ten years' tenure. This councilman said that he believed a contract could be reached with the Jenney company whereby it would agree to sell at the appraised value at the end of ten years and furnish the cheaper light during the intervening years. Objection might be raised on the grounds that unless kept in the best of repair the plant would have decreased in value, but in making the appraisement this fact could be taken into consideration, suggests the councilman. A municipal light fund is being raised and many councilmen are desirous of getting results from it as soon as possible.

BOUGHT A MEAT MARKET.

A business change occurred this morning when Alex. Laurentz sold his meat market at Barr and Wayne streets to Jesse Grice who took immediate possession. Mr. Grice is a novice in the business, having formerly been proprietor of the same market.

FIXED SCHOOL LEVY.

The school trustees at a meeting last night fixed the school levy for next year as follows: Special school fund, 18 cents; library fund, 3 1-3 cents. This is the same as last year.

WANTED TO FIGHT.

Tennessee Volunteers Leave Home-Bound Transport to Go Into a Battle Against the Rebels.

SEVERE FIGHTING OCCURS IN CEBU.

General Snyder Attacks the Insurgent Position and Captures a Chain of Seven Forts--Drives the Rebels With Great Loss.

Washington, Sept. 26.—A dispatch has been received from Manila by the war department stating that General Snyder attacked the position of the insurgents five miles west of Cebu and destroyed seven forts and quite a number of smooth bore cannons. The insurgents were utterly routed and Snyder returned with his force to Cebu. The Tennessee regiment was already aboard transports to come home, but disembarked to take part in the engagement.

GENERAL OTIS' DISPATCH. Following is the text of General Otis' message:

"Manila, Sept. 26.—Adjutant General, Washington: On September 23d and 24d Snyder attacked strong insurgent positions about five miles west of Cebu with two hundred and sixty-five officers and men, Tennessee regiment, and five hundred and seventy officers and men, Nineteenth, Sixth and Twenty-third infantry and Sixth artillery, driving enemy from works and capturing seven forts, including smooth bore cannons mounted therein and fourteen entrenched and fortified places. Our loss, Private Wm. M. Hanley, company A, Sixth infantry, killed, and fourteen were wounded. Enemy's loss estimated forty. Insurgents retreated to new fortifications southwest.

"Snyder returned to Cebu with Tennessee troops, who had disembarked from transport Indiana to take part in action. Two companies Nineteenth infantry hold important positions in mountains. "Otis."

WATSON REPORTS.

Washington, Sept. 26.—A dispatch has been received at the navy department from Admiral Watson saying that he is informed through insurgent sources that Naval Cadet Welborn C. Wood was killed in the action when the gunboat Undaneta was captured by the insurgents. Wood was appointed from Georgia and had not yet graduated from the naval academy.

GOSSIP OF OTIS' RECALL.

New York, Sept. 26.—A special to the Times from Washington says: Coincident with the near approach of Admiral Dewey, the rumors about General Otis' recall have been revived. It is again reported that his recall has actually been decided upon. There has also been a rumor lately that General Brooke was to leave Cuba shortly, and as it is now said that a major general is to be sent to the Philippines, there is some disposition to regard that as General Brooke's future berth.

The basis for all this gossip seems to be the report that Admiral Dewey has a poor opinion of General Otis.

This report has lately been revived and repeated in a number of ways. It is generally believed that Admiral Dewey will have much influence with the administration, and his views on the Philippines' policy will be anxiously sought. A strong impression prevails that when he gives his opinion it will not be favorable to General Otis. There is to be a conference at the white house shortly after his return, at which the president will meet the admiral and the Philippine commission, and what is said at the conference may result in some alterations in the military policy in the Philippines.

PHISCATOR COMES BACK.

St. Joseph, Mich., Sept. 26.—Frank Phiscator, one of the kings of the Klondike, arrived here yesterday evening in splendid health and spirits and talks freely of the wonderful possibilities of the gold country. Three years ago Phiscator operated a small fruit farm near Baroda, twelve miles from this city, from which he realized a few hundred dollars yearly for his hard labor. In the spring of 1895 he went to the Klondike and after two months' prospecting discovered two claims, which he sold to a London syndicate for $500,000. Elated over the success of the first voyage, Mr. Phiscator for the second time went to Alaska in April, 1897. He discovered two more valuable claims in the Yukon district and returned to this city in December, 1898. The lucky prospector for the third time landed in the South Yukon district early this spring and discovered three more claims from which it is said that over $100,000 has been panned.

PLANS TO RAISE THE MONEY

WITH WHICH TO PAY FOR INTERCEPTING SEWER.

Are Discussed by Prominent Citizens At the Commercial Club Rooms.

There promises to be legal complications no matter how the board of works may decide to collect the money with which to pay for the proposed intercepting sewer. The board and city officials generally are of the opinion that the assessment plan is the best, but there is opposition to this and as a result a meeting called by Frank Alderman is being held this afternoon in the rooms of the Commercial club to discuss the matter. Mr. Alderman, as is well known, opposes the assessment plan and favors a levy. He claims that the assessment plan will compel a man with a $500 fifty-foot lot to pay as much for the building of a sewer as the man who owns a $10,000 fifty-foot lot. This, Mr. Alderman claims, would be an injustice to the poor man. It is to talk over these methods of raising money that the meeting is called. To The Sentinel this morning Mr. Alderman said, "It appears that there will be an injunction asked for whether the money is collected by assessment or levy and it has been suggested that the appropriations for all other purposes be cut to the lowest possible limit and that a big levy be fixed for general purposes. An appropriation for the big sewer could then be made out of the general fund."

Another plan is to divide the city into districts according to property valuations and then assess benefits in each district. In this manner the biggest benefits could be assessed against the most valuable property. Mr. Shambaugh, city attorney, believes that the only safe way is to raise the money by assessment and he has made a thorough search for authorities and is prepared to defend his plan if called upon to do so. He is of the opinion that it would be an injustice to property owners in Lakeside and Bloomhedge to pay taxes by levy for an improvement which would be of no benefit to them.

It is probable that the men in conference this afternoon will submit a plan to the council.

BUILDING PERMITS.

Clerk A. M. Schmidt, of the city boards, has issued the following building permits: Paul F. Kinder, two dwellings on lot 93, Bass & Hanna's addition; cost, $2,000. John A. Hoke, dwelling on lot No. 120, Hanna's addition; cost, $500.

CHURCHMEN ARE GATHERING IN WASHINGTON.

CENTRAL STATES THE FIELD

THE SESSIONS WILL BE BEGUN
WEDNESDAY.

ELDERS WORK WITHOUT PAY

PROMINENT FIGURES IN THE WORK OF THE CHURCH.

Washington, Sept. 26.—Presbyterians from all over the world are arriving here to attend the Pan-Presbyterian council, which opens its sittings at the New York Avenue Presbyterian church tomorrow.

Upwards of 400 delegates are expected to be in attendance upon this, the seventieth general council. The following foreign countries will be represented:

Austria-Hungary, Belgium, East Prussia, France, Germany, Greece, Italy, Russia, Spain, Switzerland, England, Ireland, Scotland, Ceylon, China, Japan, Cape of Good Hope, Orange Free State, South African republic, Natal, Canada, Eastern Australia, Victoria, Queensland, Tasmania, New Zealand, Otago, South Land, Jamaica and New Hebrides.

The local Presbyterians have made elaborate preparations for receiving and entertaining the delegates.

The council is not a legislative body; its work is to discuss church and religious questions and its suggestions and conclusions will be adopted by individual churches which are subject only to their own laws.

Among the prominent figures here will be Dr. J. Marshall Lang, of Glasgow, Scotland, author of "Is Life Worth Living?" and pastor of Barrony church, the mother congregation of Scotland in which John Knox worshipped; Rev. James Stewart, of South Africa; Samuel Smith, of London, and J. Herbert Roberts, of Abercrombie, Wales, both members of parliament; Rev. Charles A. Salmond, of Edinburgh, and Rev. Theophilus G. Waldensinn, of Princeton.

Rev. John Dewitt, of Princeton Theological seminary, will preach a sermon at the opening service tomorrow and Rev. Lang will deliver the opening address.

In the evening President McKinley will receive the delegates at the white house.

YACUI WAR GROWING WORSE.

Austin, Texas, Sept. 26.—Judging from reports reaching here from Orizaba, state of Sonora, Mexico, the Yaqui Indians warfare is rapidly growing worse instead of abating. Lieutenant Majeran has arrived at Torreon on his way to the City of Mexico to make official reports as to the progress of the campaign. He says that there has been no cessation in the warfare against the Indians by the Mexican government. He reports that the Indians have scattered into small bands and are now vigorously waging a guerrilla warfare; that the Mexican soldiers have adopted similar tactics and are also divided into small scouting parties and that there are frequent engagements. The Indians avoid open engagements with the soldiers, rather harassing them with attacks from secure positions in the mountains and along the rough roads. General Torres, in command of the Mexican troops, asks the Mexican war department to send a force of rifles to assist him, as it is thought that they can render very effective service. The Yaquis hold the rifles in great dread, as they are their old-time enemies and a most formidable foe.

PREFERRED CREDITORS.

Glenn Forgy, who is a son of Geo. B. Forgy, of Logansport, and represented as a Chicago capitalist, who loans money to railroad men at usurious rates of interest and talking for security a lien against the wages of said men, was defeated in a claim by a decision appealed from Referee Swigart to the United States court at Indianapolis. It was in the matter of Forgy against John Wharton, of Huntington, a bankrupt. When Wharton made an assignment Forgy filed his claim before Swigart as a preferred creditor. The attorney for Wharton filed a petition to set aside the illegal preference and Referee Swigart sustained the petition. Forgy then appealed the matter to the United States court and it came up before Judge Baker, who affirmed the decision of Referee Swigart. In affirming the decision Judge Baker held that where one person charges another usurious rates of interest the one loaning the money loses all of his interest and can collect back only the principal. The court also held that an assignment of future wages is inoperative and invalid, it being against public policy to show one creditor preference over that of another when obtained under such circumstances.

THE LINE OF MARCH.

The Mardi Gras committee met Monday evening and completed arrangements for the masquerade. The following line of march was decided on: Form on market square space at Barr street, move west on Wayne to Broadway, south to Washington, east to Calhoun street and north to Berry. The judges' stand will be located at the corner of Calhoun and Wayne streets. The parade will wind up with a dance on Berry street, between Calhoun and Harrison streets. Six prizes will be awarded, as follows: A couch for the best costumed gentleman; receiving stand for the best costumed lady; a fishing tackle and silver tea set to the best comic make-up of gentleman and lady respectively; an alligator grip to the wearer of the best original costume and a silk umbrella to the wearer of the best make up representing some well known character.

FOURTEEN FINES WERE PAID.

THE POLICE RAIDED THREE HOUSES OF ILL-FAME.

All the Persons Arrested Forfeited
Fines in Police Court—
Two Drunks.

The police department last night made the regular quarterly round-up of the houses of ill-fame. Sergeants Harkerider and Stevens and Officer Borgman visited Mattie Hyke's place, Nos. 65 and 67 East Main street, and arrested the landlady, Fanny Prescott and one man. The same officers also visited Fannie Sheehan's place, No. 57 East Main street, and besides the landlady, arrested Bessie Wilson and two men. The sergeants and Officer Phipps raided Della Roger's place, No. 5 Pearl street, and arrested the landlady, two inmates, Stella Melotte and Edna Brown, and four men. All the fourteen persons arrested put up forfeit bail and none of them appeared in police court this morning. Mayor Scherer assessed fines and costs amounting to $21 each against the landladies and $16 against the others, making a total of $200 paid in. Of this amount the prosecutor gets $70.

DRUNKEN MEN FIGHT.

Officers Blum and Knock last night arrested F. J. Foster and Fred Keyes for drunkenness. Foster had on a fighting "jag" and made it unpleasant for frequenters of saloons on Columbia street. He was arrested along with Keyes, but Foster was inclined to make trouble for Officer Blum, who lambasted him over the eye and in police court this morning the fellow carried a sadly discolored face. The mayor fined Keyes $1 and costs and assessed $5 and costs against Foster. They went to jail.

Foster is the fellow who sold electric belts from a buggy at the corner of Calhoun and Wayne streets last Saturday night. He formed the acquaintance of Mary Dewey, who was in police court to file an affidavit for petit larceny against him. Foster is a "smooth article," in the parlance of the street, and induced the woman to believe that he could make her some money and made arrangements for her to accompany him to Bluffton, where he would sell electric belts while she sold telephones. She packed her trunk and from it took a pocketbook containing $11, which she placed in her pocket. The couple then visited a saloon to say good-bye to some friends and it was while here that the woman claims Foster stole her pocketbook. She did not miss it until she went to pay for some drinks she had ordered. Frequenters of the place told her Foster took the money and the affidavit charging him with petit larceny is the result. A warrant was issued by Mayor Scherer and will be served as soon as Foster's sentence for drunkenness has expired.

NO RIGHT TO UGLINESS.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents, at Dreier & Bros. drug store.

WAS AFTER GOLD.

CYRUS W. ZIMMER RETURNS TO FORT WAYNE.

IN THE ALASKAN GOLD FIELD

A SEASON SPENT IN KETCHIKAN COUNTRY.

THE QUARTZ IS OF LOW GRADE

SOME INTERESTING FACTS OF THE REGION.

Cyrus W. Zimmer, who spent several months in the gold fields of southern Alaska, returned Monday morning at 12:30 from Chicago, where he spent a few days on his return trip. Mr. Zimmer is looking well and says that the trip greatly benefited his health. He was seen by a Sentinel reporter, to whom he gave many interesting facts with regard to that Mecca of fortune hunters. He said:

"I left here on the 21st of May and first went to Chicago, where I procured a part of my outfit, and after a visit with relatives for a few days, I went to Seattle, where the remainder of my outfit was purchased. In company with a friend I sailed on the steamer Derigo and we arrived in Ketchikan, southern Alaska, about the 1st of June. We had considerable difficulty in finding a piece of ground sufficiently clear upon which we could pitch our tents, but we at last got them up and started our camp life. The country thereabouts is exceedingly rough and the only vegetation is evergreen trees and moss. The moss covers the ground several inches deep and the footing is very treacherous in going over the mountains.

"To return to Ketchikan. That town has about seventy log houses and many tents and is situated on a convenient, though rather treacherous bay. Steamers visit the place about every three days and therefore there is no scarcity of provisions. Provisions are not extra expensive and board can be had at very reasonable rates. All prospecting in that region is done in boats and in the whole region but two rich strikes have been made, the Dwyer and Johnson mine, from which about $20,000 was taken, and the Sea Level mine, worth $15,000. The quartz is mostly low grade and yields from 83 to 820 per ton. There is very little machinery in the town, the only ones being at the two big mines. There are a number of women in the town and they all make a living baking bread, for which they receive about 10 cents a loaf. There are totem poles and different images in the Indian graveyards, which are most grotesque.

"The deer and bear are very plentiful in some localities, but the latter are very shy and hard to get at. The creeks are alive with salmon, some of the fish being four feet long. Fishermen who make a living catching them get but 75 cents a hundred fish from the canneries. As many as 15,000 are caught in one haul of the nets."

On July 28th Mr. Zimmer embarked on the steamer Farallon for Seattle. This boat had been on the rocks at Wrangell and the holes in her hull had never been mended properly. She leaked like a sieve and it was necessary to keep the pumps going constantly to keep her clear. Mr. Zimmer arrived in Seattle about August 1 and immediately left for Yreka, Cal., where he purchased a half interest in a placer gold mine. Mr. Zimmer remained in that town for a few weeks attending to several business matters and after visiting San Francisco he returned home by way of Chicago.

Mr. Zimmer has many interesting specimens from the far north and has a small bottle containing several grains of gold that was washed from a few pints of "pay dirt." He also has several specimens of moss, many curious sea weeds, picked up along the coast near Ketchikan, and several samples of quartz taken from mines in the vicinity of that town.

WEBER-SUMMERS.

At 8 o'clock this morning, at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, the marriage of Miss Ella Cecilia Summers and Clement J. Weber was solemnized. Rev. Father Durham performing the ceremony and celebrating the nuptial high mass. The bride was assisted by Miss Matie Keller and Thomas J. O'Brien was groomsmen. Special music was rendered by the choir and Miss Lizzie Summers, a sister of the bride, sang "Ave Maria," accompanied on the violin by Mr. Ross. Carl Weber rendered "Benedictus." After the ceremony the bridal party adjourned to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Summers, of 47 Douglas avenue, where an elaborate breakfast was served, only the families and immediate friends of the couple being present. The young people received many beautiful presents and a large number of congratulatory telegrams from friends out of the city. They left at noon for a tour of the coast and upon their return will take up their residence in Logansport. Both young people are well known and highly esteemed by a large circle of friends in the city. Mr. Weber is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weber, of this city, and holds a responsible position in Lafayette.

WAS NOT A GHOST.

Some men have been experimenting with electrical apparatus on Wash engines on the tracks near McCulloch park for a few nights and some of the near-by residents who saw the peculiar lights moving about believed they were carried by ghosts. The rumors went so far as to say that Officer Spillner had fired at the uncanny object, all of which the officer denies, asserting that he doesn't believe in ghosts.

GATHERED IN THE COURTS.

GROCERY CLERKS FILE AN OTHER AFFIDAVIT.

Joe Hartman Is the Defendant—
Claim Saloon Doesn't Front
On a Highway—Notes.

The Grocery Clerks' union is back of another prosecution for violation of the Nicholson law. Monday afternoon, in Justice Tancey's court, Louis Nickles, a member of the Grocery Clerks' union, filed an affidavit against Joe Hartman, charging him with operating a saloon in a room which does not front on a public highway. The defendant is a member of the grocery firm of Hartman Bros., who own a grocery on East Wayne street, near Barr. The Messrs. Hartman will fight the case.

IN HANDS OF TRUSTEE.

Harry Criss, who manages a general store at No. 74 Barr street, this morning transferred by chattel mortgage to Harry Eberline, trustee, all the stock and fixtures in the store. The liabilities named in the mortgage aggregate about $1,500. Mr. Criss is to remain in charge of the store and turn over to Mr. Eberline each Saturday evening all the receipts, which are to be used in settling the liabilities.

COURT NOTES.

The last will and testament of the late Chloe K. Bartholomew has been filed for probate. She leaves a black mare to David P. Foster and a sewing machine to Caroline E. Bartholomew and all the balance of her property, real and personal, to Adeline S. Foster.

The board of county commissioners find that under the new law their august body can meet only once a month. Heretofore the commissioners have held two meetings each month. Twice a month ditch matters were considered, twice a month road matters were disposed of and liquor licenses granted. They find now that they can hold one session only each month to dispose of these matters. The Allen county board will begin the new order of business in October and will hold longer sessions for the transaction of the business of the different departments.

Joseph Jacob Mirshak was admitted to citizenship Monday, renouncing all allegiance to the sultan of Turkey.

In the case of John E. Manning vs. Hugh Kuhn Judge O'Rourke found for plaintiff, who recovers the calf in controversy.

Owing to the illness of Judge Dawson Monday afternoon Judge S. M. Hensch presided in the superior court. He dismissed the case of Taylor vs. Bacon and in the case of A. E. McCurdy vs. E. P. Banning and J. C. Cnscheer gave judgment to plaintiff in the sum of $1,058.75.

THREE KILLED, TWO WILL DIE.

Auburn, N. Y., Sept. 26.—A head-on collision between a New York Central passenger and a freight train occurred this morning at 6 o'clock just west of Old Flat Bottom bridge, about half mile west of this city, and as a result three people are dead, two fatally injured and four seriously injured.

GAME OF FOOT BALL.

An additional amusement attraction for the barbecue and races was secured this morning when arrangements were concluded by which the Huntington high school team will meet the eleven from the Fort Wayne high school in a game of foot ball on Saturday, October 7. Both teams are strong, and a fine contest is in prospect.

LOSS WAS HEAVY.

THEME CLOTHING STORE WAS GUTTED BY FIRE.

LOSS IS SAID TO BE $14,000

SMOKE AND WATER DOES MOST OF THE DAMAGE.

A FIRE IN EARLY MORNING

DIFFICULTY GETTING AT THE FLAMES.

The ready-made clothing department, together with the manufactory of J. G. Thieme & Son, at the corner of Clinton and Columbia streets, were gutted this morning by fire shortly after 3 o'clock and the loss on the stock will be about $14,000, exclusive of a loss of several thousand on the building. The fire was discovered by Watchman Banet at about 3 o'clock this morning as he was making his rounds. He at once notified the department, but upon its arrival there was some difficulty in gaining an entrance to the building and the fire had gained considerable headway before the hose could be brought into play. The flames were extinguished after about an hour's hard work. The fire is thought to have started on the first floor. A gas stove was left burning over night and on a shelf immediately behind it several articles of clothing were piled and it is thought the fire originated in this way. The east store was almost untouched, the only damage being done by smoke. The loss is fully covered by insurance in several companies.

The damage wrought was due in greater part to smoke and water. The tightly closed rooms were filled so thickly with smoke that it seemed almost palpable. A very large volume of water was thrown into the building before the obstinate flames were gotten under control. Much of the stock was thoroughly water-soaked and all of it was impregnated with smoke.

IN BATTLE WITH ROBBERS.

BRAVE CITIZENS SAVE THE FUNDS OF A BANK.

Four Men Are Ready to Blow a Safe
in Milroy and Get $30,000
When Interrupted.

Milroy, Ind., Sept. 26.—Four desperate men yesterday morning at 2 o'clock made an attempt to rob the State bank here. Had they not been interrupted until five minutes later they would have accomplished their end. The combination Master safe and vault contained between $20,000 and $30,000 in cash and securities. The robbers had the knobs and combination tumblers knocked off with a sledge hammer and a hole drilled in the safe ready for a charge of dynamite when detection came.

The robbers were discovered by Dr. H. C. Lampton, who was returning from a midnight professional call. He is a stockholder in the bank, and when he heard the sledge hammer blows on the safe he lost no time in securing armed assistance and returning to the bank.

One of the robbers stood guard at the bank door while his three "pals" were engaged at the safe. The man on the outside gave the alarm and instantly his three friends came to his rescue. The citizens opened fire on the robbers, who returned the fire with such vigor as to hold the posse at bay. The shooting attracted other people in such force as to convince the robbers that resistance would be suicidal, and the four men retired in good order toward the Big Four station, shooting as they went.

The safe blowers mounted a hand car in the Big Four yards and rode out of the town toward the north. A safe blower's outfit was found later in the bank.

At 9 o'clock the hand car used by the robbers was found on the south edge of Rushville. It belonged in that city. An umbrella with the name of a well known young man of Rushville on it was found with the car. He denies any knowledge of the robbery, and says his umbrella was stolen.

Bloodhounds from North Vernon were put on the trail last evening. Cashier Allison has offered a large reward for the arrest of the robbers. The bank has been in operation since June 1 and has large deposits from farmers.

In speaking of Tim Flood's retirement from yesterday's game the Globe-Democrat says: "The team's new second baseman, Tim Flood, had been forced to retire in the first inning on account of splitting a finger in fielding a ground ball." Tim's Fort Wayne friends hope that it is only a little hurt and they are very desirous of seeing him have a fair trial with the Perfectos.

The Fort Wayne management has received official notice of the Interstate League meeting which will be held in New Castle on next Thursday evening. Director Mautner will represent the Fort Wayne club at the meeting. Billy Meyer will go to the Quaker city tomorrow and present his claims for president in advance.

X RAYS FAIL TO LOCATE BALL.

CHARLES DORTON HAS A BULLET
LET IN HIS HAND.

While Handling a Revolver It Is Accidentally Discharged—The X-Rays Used.

Charles Dorton is at Hope hospital, and somewhere in Mr. Dorton's left hand is a bullet from a 32-calibre revolver, which as yet has not been located. Mr. Dorton is about 22 years of age and resides at the corner of Wells and Hoffman streets.

He received his wound about 11 o'clock Saturday night. He was handling the revolver, and in placing it upon the bureau had grasped the weapon by the muzzle. As it dropped upon the bureau it was discharged, the bullet entering the palm of the left hand, passing backward in the hand and burying itself in the fleshy part of the hand near the wrist.

Dr. A. J. Rauch was called and gave the young man temporary attention. The probe did not disclose the location of the bullet, and Sunday morning he called Dr. Porter into consultation. Dorton was taken to the Barrows studio, where the Roentgen rays were applied in the hope of locating the ball. Several negatives were taken, and it was believed the bullet had been located, but when the surgeons explored the spot indicated, the shadowgraph was proven to be at fault. It was deemed best to defer further search for the bullet for a day or two.

THE DEATHS.

KLEINARD.

Mrs. Pauline Kleinard, wife of F. F. Kleinard, died from heart failure this morning at her home at Garrett. Mrs. Kleinard was a daughter of Adam Koehnlein and formerly resided in Fort Wayne. Many friends here will grieve to learn of her death. She was thirty-five years of age and surviving here are the husband and a daughter eleven years of age. Mr. and Mrs. J. Koehnlein and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller, of this city, are relatives and will attend the funeral.

CUSHMAN.

Carrie Cushman, seventeen years of age, died Sunday night at the Indiana school for feeble minded youth, from tuberculosis. The funeral services were held at the institution this afternoon.

CAUGHT A NURSE.

Didn't Know Old King Coffee Had Her.

"The duties of professional nurses call them among a great many different people, and it is surprising to know how many are suffering from the use of coffee, which is the primary cause of the majority of many nervous disorders. My own experience has been such that I feel that I can speak with some knowledge of the subject.

"For about ten years I was afflicted with a severe nervous disorder, which was so great that sleep became an unknown thing to me without the use of opiates. I was a confirmed coffee drinker at this time, but had never thought that had anything to do with the difficulty.

"After coming to Chicago to live I was told by an acquaintance, who had been a similar sufferer from nervousness, that he discovered it was caused by the use of coffee, and when he made that discovery, gave up the coffee and took up the use of Postum Food Coffee and was completely restored. His argument sounded so logical, I was determined to make the experiment, and to my surprise, upon leaving off the coffee habit I commenced to improve. This improvement has continued until now I am in complete health and sleep well and naturally. I always advise patients suffering from nervous trouble to abandon the use of coffee and use Postum, for I know what I am talking about on that subject.

"Occasionally private families do not prepare Postum well, that is, they fail to allow a sufficient amount of time for boiling. It requires more boiling than coffee, but the care well repays, for the beverage is delightful to the taste and wonderfully nourishing."

Maggie F. Church, No. 2 E. 33d Place, Chicago, Ill.

Postum is sold by all first-class grocers, and made by the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

THE VEHICLE LICENSE.

Editor Sentinel.—In last Tuesday's issue of the News Controllor Berghoff informed the News that he was aware that a petition had been circulated and money subscribed to fight the vehicle law, etc.; also that the men who are circulating the petition, Dr. Rauch and others, have already paid their vehicle license. In reply to this article I will simply state that I was the only man that circulated the subscription list, and I wish those who have signed the list to distinctly understand that I am not made of the kind of material that Mr. Berghoff represents. I did not run and pay vehicle license after telling them that I would positively not pay until the supreme court decided the constitutionality of the law. I, therefore, stand just where I did in the start. If, as Mr. Berghoff says, my vehicle license is already paid, he had better send me the receipt, for I have not been near the office, and if he has paid for me, he is certainly very liberal. The fight is on, and to a finish.

Becoming a Mother

It is an ordeal which all women approach with trepidation. For nothing can compare with the horrors of childbirth. The thought of the suffering and danger in store for her, the expectant mother of all pleasant anticipation of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom that cannot be shaken off. Thousands of women have found that the use of Morrill's Pellets during pregnancy is a relief to all pain and danger, and insures safety to mother and child. This scientific treatment is a godsend to all women at the time of their most critical ordeal. Not only does Morrill's Pellets carry woman safely through the perils of childbirth, but its use greatly repairs the system for the coming event, prevents "morning sickness," and other discomforts of this period. Sold by all druggists at 50c per bottle. Send for free booklet to THE DRUGGIST REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Georgia.

That all the energies of President Kruger and his government are not engaged in preparations for the impending war seems to be proved by a letter received by the Chicago board of education from Dr. Joseph H. Hertz, member of a commission appointed by President Kruger for the reformation of the public school system of the Transvaal, asking for a copy of the report on the Chicago school system as recently made to the board by a committee.

A writer in the Chicago Interior points out that the conditions in the religious world are precisely those which in philosophy, politics and science have always preceded the appearance of some great leader who has separated the real from the visionary and has proved an epoch-maker. Such a religious leader, he says, will surely appear shortly. These Christians who are looking for the speedy appearance of Christ will appreciate this remarkable deliverance.

When the conviction was forced upon the world that Sir John Franklin and his party were lost in the Arctic regions, expedition after expedition was sent out in search of their whereabouts. Both English and American explorers were engaged in this task, and it was prosecuted for many years, until the mystery of their fate was cleared as far as it was possible for it to be. There have been disasters to Polar expeditions since the ill-fated one of Sir John Franklin, but with the exception of the one conducted by Professor Andr  , however, the rescue parties speedily found and rescued the survivors. The fate of Andr  , however, is not cleared up, although probably there have been more search parties out for traces of him in the two years since he disappeared than there were pointed by President Kruger for the reformation of the public school system of the Transvaal, asking for a copy of the report on the Chicago

Strindberg and Herr Frenkel, are alive, but it is not likely that the quest will be abandoned until their remains are found or their fate definitely determined.

CITY SHOULD OWN IT.

We believe that if it is possible for the city to acquire ownership of the Jenney electric lighting system at once or within a short time, it ought to be bought. It is said the company owning the Jenney plant is ready to consider the matter. If the city can buy it at a fair valuation, we believe the time is here to inaugurate municipal lighting. To make the purchase now would be to seize advantage of many economies as to ownership and operation, besides giving the people immediate benefit of what has so far only been a remote though much studied prospect.

Electricity is inevitably to be the almost universal agent of lighting, heating and power of the future. It will become a common necessity as vital to the community's welfare as a public water supply. No man or corporation should have a monopoly of it. The monopoly should belong to all the people in common. Municipal ownership will make the use of electricity almost universal. It is now expensive, whereas it should be the cheapest illuminant known, and so it would be under municipal dispensation. Progress should confer its choicest benefits upon all, not merely upon the well-to-do. It is wrong that electricity for lighting should be a luxury. Furnished on a large scale to the whole community at the cost of supplying it, none who can afford tallow dips or kerosene lamps would be too poor to afford electric lights for domestic use.

We believe in municipal ownership and control of every necessity where in monopoly is possible. Where the day is not far away when Fort Wayne will be running the street car lines and furnishing telephone service at prices that will make those splendid conveniences of modern life easily within the reach of every person's means.

The development of Fort Wayne's waterworks system during the score of years of city control has been a magnificent vindication of the beneficence of municipal ownership. No city of its class has a finer public water supply furnished to consumers so cheaply. As an instance of corporate control Indianapolis may be cited, where the water supply is not only almost unfit for use, but where rates are vastly more excessive than in Fort Wayne.

If the city can buy the Jenney lighting system at what it is worth, we assert that purchase should be made as soon as practicable.

FORT WAYNE MAN A CENSOR.

MINISTERS DICTATED SELECTION OF PROF. DUENLING.

Will Supervise Columns of Germania to Keep Objectionable Matter Out.

Some additional information in regard to Prof. Duening's position at the head of Germania, at Milwaukee, is supplied by the following special dispatch printed this morning in the Chicago Record.

"Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 26.—Der Germania today offers something new in the daily newspaper line. It is in the form of an announcement that the Rev. Dr. Duening, of Fort Wayne, Ind., will hereafter have general supervision over the columns of the paper in order that no objectionable matter may appear. Duening is the representative of the Wisconsin and the Missouri synods of the Lutheran church, and it was practically at the dictation of the ministers that he was employed to act as censor on Der Germania. The Germania company prints an afternoon daily, a weekly and a Sunday paper. If the new censor scheme works it may enable ministers of English deaconesses to solve the Sunday paper question."

WATCHMEN IN A PANIC.

New York, Sept. 26.—Fire did $50,000 damage in the nine-story Robinson building, bounded by East Broadway, Division and Convent streets, early this morning. Although there were eighteen watchmen, the flames were discovered first by a policeman, who saw them leaping out of a third-story window. When they found that it was their building that was on fire the eighteen watchmen came tumbling out of doors in a mad rush for safety. One Frederick Stein, a watchman, said that there were still two watchmen in the building. He could not give their names.

Mrs. L. A. Centlivre left today for a visit in Chicago.

GILMORE'S MEN SOON TO HAVE THEIR LIBERTY.

STORY OF TWO ENGLISHMEN

THEY COME FROM THE LINES OF THE INSURGENTS.

A PLAY TO THE BIG POWERS

AGUINALDO HOPES TO MAKE AN IMPRESSION.

New York, Sept. 26.—A dispatch to the Herald from Manila says: The two Englishmen, who assert that they were shipwrecked in a small open boat near Luzon, have brought a message from the insurgent general, Pantolon Garcia, that fourteen American prisoners, who are now held at Tarlac, will be released on Tuesday or Wednesday.

The delay in releasing the prisoners, as promised several days ago, is due to the fact that the Filipinos wish to furnish the men with new clothing when they set them free. The Englishmen state further that Lieut. J. C. Gilmore and the captured boat's crew from the Yorktown, are still at Bigan, but will be released later in accordance with direction of the Filipino congress and the subsequent decree of Aguinaldo providing for the surrender of American prisoners.

The admitted purpose of the Filipinos in thus freeing the Americans is to impress foreign powers.

The Englishmen say that Lieut. Gilmore and his men are not being treated well. They are receiving only twenty cents a day each for rations.

The released Englishmen assert that three Americans who were taken prisoners have accepted commissions in the insurgent army.

One of the three is said to have been a sergeant, but his regiment is unknown. Another is said to have been a corporal in the California regiment, while the third is a negro.

Five officers of the Japanese army are assisting the insurgents in their war preparations. The Filipino authorities sent word that no trace can be found of Captain Rockefeller, of the Ninth Infantry, who disappeared in April and was supposed to have been captured.

The railroad bridges in insurgent territory have been washed out, especially the one at Bandon, above Tarlac, and the insurgents are having difficulty in supplying the troops in the immediate front of the American army. The insurgent army has a heterogeneous supply of arms. Sometimes there are four types of rifles to a regiment. The main resistance to the American advance is to be made at Tarlac. On the way to the American lines the Englishmen were taken on a wide detour away from the insurgent front, and were thus unable to see the rebel defenses, which are reputed to be strong.

TEMPORARY SECRETARY.

Miss Mary B. Galvin, of Irvington, Ind., will arrive in the city next week to take the secretaryship of the Young Women's Christian association until arrangements can be completed for some one who can remain indefinitely. Miss Galvin has been until recently the general secretary of the association at Schenectady, N. Y. She will be tendered a reception at the parlors of the association on Tuesday, October 3.

MINISTERS SAY AYE.

Chicago, Sept. 26.—Presbyterian ministers at their meeting yesterday formally approved and endorsed the movement recently started by the young people's department of the Women's Christian Temperance union to get 1,000,000 citizens to vote against the saloon at every opportunity presented, irrespective of political parties. The association elected the following officers to serve during the ensuing year: President, Rev. F. W. Lewis; vice-president, Rev. G. W. Wright; secretary, Rev. Norman B. Barr; committee on program, Dr. E. H. Curtis, Rev. Wm. J. Chichester, Prof. George L. Robinson, Rev. S. M. Campbell and Rev. C. L. Hoyt.

BEWARE OF OINTMENTS FOR CATARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY.

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely destroy the whole system when exteriorly it is through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is too full to be told. You can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by E. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, U. S. A. Beware of cheap imitations. Sold by Druggists, price 50c per bottle. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

LET THEM TELL IT.

The Public Utterances of Earl Wayne Citizens are What Count Here —Publicity is What the People Want.

Let them tell it. Let the public speak on the subject. It means a better understanding. Means less misery in Fort Wayne. Means confidence in a good thing. Easier to believe your neighbors. Than strangers in a far-away town. Home endorsement counts. Every box of Doan's Kidney Pills is backed by home testimony. Kidney disorders—urinary troubles. Are on the decrease here. Doan's Kidney Pills are the cause of it.

Relieving backs and curing citizens is their daily work. Here's a case in point. Mrs. Margaret Floor, of 90 East Jefferson street, says: "When I was suffering most with kidney complaint the symptoms which caused me the most trouble were pains across the small of my back and dizziness. I had other symptoms that plainly told my kidneys were out of order, but they did not cause me much suffering. One day while looking over the paper my eye was attracted by an article about Doan's Kidney Pills, so I decided to get them at Meyer Bros. & Co.'s drug store. I had no sooner started taking them than I began to improve in health and kept steadily getting better until my kidneys and general health were better than they had been for a long time. I have great faith in Doan's Kidney Pills and believe that anyone who gives them a fair trial will not be disappointed."

SHOT BY DESPERATE WOMAN.

Anderson, Ind., Sept. 26.—Mrs. John McMillan was arrested last night on the charge of shooting William Coughlin, who lies at the hospital mortally wounded. McMillan and Coughlin have been on a series of drunks. Mrs. McMillan took her husband home several times, but Coughlin would get him out again. She warned the latter repeatedly and at last in a fit of desperation shot him. The bullet lodged in Coughlin's abdomen.

EARTHQUAKE FELT AT SEA.

San Francisco, Sept. 26.—The earthquakes which shook up the Alaskan coast early in September made themselves felt miles at sea. Three vessels which have arrived from the northern salmon fisheries report experiencing peculiar weather on Sunday, Sept. 24, the day of the first of the tremors. Capt. Charles Johnson, of the bark B. P. Cheney, which was at sea almost opposite Kodiak at the time of the disturbances, states that on September 24 a heavy gale sprang up, the air being very sultry. The barometer fell rapidly, but in about fifteen minutes the wind fell and the sea quieted down. Captain Thompson, of the bark Nicholas Thayer, from Alaska, also noted the peculiar climatic conditions obtaining on September 24. The L. J. Morse was likewise caught in the gale which followed the upheaval along the north coast.

MISSIONARY WILL SPEAK.

Miss Mary Hollowell, a missionary of the Reformed church, who has been stationed at Sendai, Japan, is in the city, and will speak of her work at a union meeting to be held this evening at Salem Reformed church. Miss Hollowell came to America on a brief furlough, and is on her way to attend the synod which convenes at Indianapolis this week. The service this evening will doubtless be a most interesting one.

Drying preparations simply develop dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. All druggists sell it at 50 cents or it will be mailed by Ely Brothers, 50 Warren St., N. Y.

Darius council, Princess of Jerusalem, will meet at Masonic Temple this evening to arrange for the fall convocation, which will be held within a few weeks.

LADY AND CHILD BURNED.

Four-year-old Hester Waltemath came too near a lighted candle last evening about 8:30 o'clock and her clothing was ignited. Mrs. Klingman, the child's grandmother, went to the rescue and speedily stripped the little one, but not until Hester was severely burned about the body and limbs. Mrs. Klingman's hands were also badly burned. Dr. A. J. Kesler was called to attend both sufferers. He does not apprehend any serious results from the wounds, though Mrs. Klingman will not be able to use her hands for a week or two. The child is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. The first part of an athlete's training relates to the care of the stomach. The nourishing quality of his food is considered. The quantity he eats is carefully weighed and measured. It is curious that this care of the stomach is looked upon as an extraordinary thing only to be practiced in special circumstances.

It should be every one's care. Life is a struggle for the prize of success. The man who wins must take care of his stomach. It is not lack of energy or exercise that has caused so many a break-down in the race. It is neglect of the stomach.

Inevitable dull headache aggravated by eating. Bloating, cramping in the stomach, heartburn, acid eructations, coated tongue, bad taste in the mouth, nervousness, mental depression, sleeplessness; these are only a few of the symptoms of a weak stomach and an enfeebled condition of the digestive and nutritive functions. Not all these symptoms will be experienced at once, but any one of them means danger.

at the time. Latham denied it and the men came to blows and for a few minutes the floor of the dressing-room was being wiped with one or the other. Latham now sports a black eye and Rieger carries a scratch.

LAUD SCHEURER-KESTNER.

Paris, Sept. 26.—Upon the occasion
yesterday of the funeral of M.
Scheurer-Kestner, former vice president of the French senate, who died September 20, the day pardon was granted to former Captain Dreyfus, whose steadfast champion he had been from the outset of the revision movement, several speeches were delivered at the eastern railroad station.
Henri Brisson, former premier, who was greeted with loud cheers, said he had always revered the noble figure of Scheurer-Kestner, who was a soldier of justice and who all his life combated the plebeian regime, which had been so fatal to France.
Senator Arthur Ranc, republican senator, who is president of the Association of Republican Journalists, also extolled the deceased, by whom, he said, the greatest error had been repaired and the fair fame of France saved. On the termination of the ceremony the spectators cheered M. Brisson and surrounded his carriage, crying "Vive la republique." M. Brisson, who was much affected, replied: "Yes, my friends.
Let us love the republic, but let us not cease to defend it." Colonel Pic-quart, who was among the spectators, was received with loud cries of "Vive Picquart!" and "Vive la republique!" The figures were that among the numerous wreaths upon the coffin was one bearing the inscription, "To Scheurer-Kestner—Infinite Gratitude," and signed in small letters "Alfred Dreyfus."

NORTHERN INDIANA NOTES.

The largest enrollment of students in its history is reported at Notre Dame university.

Mrs. Bethesda Ewing, ninety-seven years old, and Philip Berger, seventy,
both of South Bend, are both dead.

James Green, of Marshall county, after a separation of thirty-five years, has succeeded in locating his sister at Centerville, Mich. They were separated in infancy.

Near Inwood, in Marshall county,
a horse driven by Mrs. Updyke, dashed into a passing train and was killed. The woman was badly hurt, but her little child escaped.

Edson McNutt, residing a mile west of Ligonier, died suddenly Friday, while out in a field on his farm. He was about fifty years of age and leaves a widow and two grown children.

The Studebaker factories, at South Bend, employing about 2,000 men, began running in all departments,
on a twelve-hour schedule, Monday night. Many other factories are also running overtime.

Miss Jennie Craig, of Peru, prepared a large number of manures for pickling, and suffered such an intense burning of her hands that she became unconscious, and alarmed her relatives. A physician was called and she recovered in a few hours.

The labor famine in Howard county is the severest ever known, and the truant officers are besieged hourly for authority to keep children out of school, their services being needed on the farm. Men, women and children are in the field, and yet farmers assert that crops are rotting in the ground.

Huntington is experiencing an epidemic of typhoid fever. There are many cases in the city, but only two or three deaths have occurred. It is said that the drought of the summer has made the water impure, and that this has caused sickness. A number of families report from two to five cases, some of which are of a malignant type.

John Weyer, for many years a wealthy merchant of Goshen, and last year the unsuccessful democratic nominee for county recorder, has been sued by his wife, Armina Weyer, for maintenance, and it is alleged in the complaint that the defendant abandoned this month leaving her pen-iless and dependent upon her own labor for support. Mr. Weyer removed to Los Angeles two weeks ago, with his two grown daughters, to make that city their future home. He is interested in a large land company at Los Angeles, and is possessed of means. Mr. and Mrs. Weyer were married October 3, 1894, at Toledo, Ohio.

INTERVIEWED HANNA.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 26.—The street railway strikers are determined to "smoke out" Senator Hanna's attitude toward them and union labor in general. While he was in France they cabined him for his views and received no answer. Yesterday the officials of the Street Railway Men's union called upon Mr. Hanna to have an understanding. The conference was secret, but it was learned that the senator was rather noncommittal.
Business Agent Pratt said: "He told us stories of his travels in Europe and they were very interesting, too.
He told us, further, that he was friendly to organized labor, having recognized it before any other employer in the state. I cannot say that the conference was what we might call altogether satisfactory.
The senator treated us very nicely and expressed his sympathy for our cause. He said that he believed and knew that we had grievances and that if the same grievances had existed among the men on his road
there never would have been a strike, but an amicable settlement before affairs reached the striking point."

Tell farmers to hold corn.

Topeka, Kan., Sept. 26.—Secretary Coburn, of the state board of agriculture, is urging the farmers to hold their surplus corn. Yesterday he sent out this appeal: "There has never been a season of unusual production and low prices for corn which was not in the near future followed by one of comparative scarcity, with prices correspondingly high, and there is no sufficient reason for believing this so far unvarying rule is likely to be changed for the present season. The moral of this is that Kansas farmers should market no grain no more of their present crop than is necessary. They would rightly have considered themselves favored and mightily prosperous with a yield less by 100,000,000 bushels than they have now. If they were to hold, as they could do very comfortably, this extra 100,000,000 bushels in substantial, ratproof cribs on the farm for a year or more, it would not only relieve to that extent the downward pressure of a glut on the market and help to steady and firm prices on the remainder, but would make the growers instead of the speculators masters of the situation when prices advanced or there is another shortage."

REUNION AT OSSIAN.

The annual excursion of the Trumbull county (Ohio) people to Ossian, where a considerable colony of Buckeyes located many years ago, takes place this week. Thursday there will be a grand reunion of the visitors and their Housier relatives at Ossian, and several persons from this city and county will attend.

A STRAY BULLET.

Friday afternoon the employes of Brinkmeyer's grocery store at 48
Harrison street, were startled by a crash of glass, and investigation showed that a stray ball from a rifle had pierced the front window. One of the clerks was engaged in arranging vegetables in the window at the time the bullet entered, and it passed too close to him for comfort. No report of a gunshot was heard, and the bullet must have traveled a great distance.

Mrs. H. L. Potter returned Monday evening from Indianapolis, where she has been visiting her sister for the past week.

Look for J. Kretzman's advertisement in tomorrow's paper; it will be worth money to you.

"IN HIS STEPS."

praying and talking with a little group of converts that, in the great experience of their new life, clung to the evangelist with a personal helplessness that made it as impossible for him to leave them as if they had been physically dead. Among these converts was Rollin Page.

Virginia and her uncle had gone home about 11 o'clock, and Rachel and Jasper Chase had gone with them as far as the avenue where Virginia lived.
Dr. West had walked on a little way with them to his own house, and Rachel and Jasper had then gone on together to her mother's.

That was a little after 11. It was now striking midnight, and Jasper Chase sat in his room staring at the papers on his desk and going over the last half hour with painful persistence.

He had told Rachel Winslow of his love for her, and she had not given her love in return.

It would be difficult to know what was most powerful in the impulse that had moved him to speak to her tonight.
He had yielded to his feelings without any special thought of results to himself because he had felt so certain that Rachel would respond to his love for her.
He tried to recall now just the impression she made on him when he first spoke to her.

Never had her beauty and her strength influenced him as tonight. While she was singing, he saw and heard no one else. The tent swarmed with a confused crowd of faces, and he knew he was sitting there hemmed in by a mob of people, but they had no meaning to him. He felt powerless to avoid speaking to her. He knew he should speak when they were once alone.

Now that he had spoken he felt that he had misjudged either Rachel or the opportunity. He knew, or thought he did, that she had begun to cry for him.
It was no secret between them that the heroine of Jasper's first novel had been his own ideal of Rachel, and the hero of the story was himself, and they had loved each other in the book, and Rachel had not objected. No one else knew. The names and characters had been drawn with a subtle skill that revealed to Rachel, when she received a copy of the book from Jasper, the fact of his love for her, and she had not been offended. That was nearly a year ago.

Tonight Jasper Chase recalled the scene between them, with every impulsion and movement increased from his memory. He even recalled the fact that he began to speak just at that point on the avenue where a few days before he had met Rachel walking with Rollin Page. He had wondered at the time what Rollin was saying.

"Rachel," Jasper had said, and it was the first time he had ever spoken her first name. "I never knew until tonight how much I love you. Why should I try to conceal any longer what you have seen me look? You know I love you as my life. I can no longer hide it from you if I would."

The first intuition he had of a refusal was the troubling of Rachel's arm in his own. She had allowed him to speak and had neither turned her face toward him nor away from him. She had looked straight on, and her voice was soft, but firm and quiet, when she spoke.

"Why do you speak to me now? I cannot hear it after what we have seen tonight."

"Why—what?" he had stammered
and then was silent.

Rachel withdrew her arm from his,
but still walked near him.

Then he cried out with the anguish of one who begins to see a great loss facing him where he expected a great joy.

"Rachel! Do you not love me? Is not my love for you as sacred as anything in all of life itself?"

She had walked on silent for a few steps after that. They had passed a street lamp. Her face was pale and beautiful. He had made a movement to clutch her arm, and she had moved a little farther from him.

"No," she had replied. "There was a time—I cannot answer for that. You should not have spoken to me tonight."

He had seen in these words his answer. He was extremely sensitive.
Nothing short of a joyous response to his own love would have satisfied him.
He could not think of pleading with her.

"Some time, when I am more worthy," he had asked in a low voice, but she did not seem to hear, and they had parted at her home, and he recalled vividly the fact that no good night had been said.

Now, as he went over the brief but significant scene, he lashed himself for his foolish precipitancy. He had not recovered on Rachel's tense, passionate absorption of all her feeling in the scenes at the tent which were so new in her mind. But he did not know her well enough even yet to understand the meaning of her refusal. When the clock in the First church struck one, he was still sitting at his desk, staring at the last page of manuscript of his unfinished novel.

Rachel Winslow went up to her room and faced her evening's experience with conflicting emotions. Had she over-loved Jasper Chase? Yes—no. One moment she felt that her life's happiness was at stake over the result of her action; another, she had a strange feeling of relief that she had spoken as she did. There was one great overwhelming feeling in her. The response of the wretched creature in the tent to her singing, the swift, awesome presence of the Holy Spirit, had affected her as never in all her life before. The moment Jasper had spoken her name and she realized that he was telling her of his love she had felt a sudden revulsion for him, as if he should have respected the supernatural events they had just witnessed. She felt as if it were not the time to be absorbed in anything less than the divine glory of those conversations. The thought that all the time she was slinging with the one passion of her soul to touch the conscience of that tent full of sin Jasper Chase had been moved by it simply to love her for himself gave her a shock as of interference on her part as well as on his. She could not tell why she felt as she did; only she knew that if he had not told her tonight she would still have felt the same toward him as she always had.

What was that feeling? What had been to her? Had she made a mistake? She went to her bookcase and took out the novel which Jasper had given her. Her face deepened in color as she turned to certain passages which she had read often and which she knew Jasper had written for her. She read them again. Somehow they failed to touch her strongly. She closed the book and let it lie on the table. She gradually felt that her thought was busy with the sight she had witnessed in that tent. Those faces, men and women, touched for the first time with the Spirit's glory. What a wonderful thing life was after all! The complete regeneration revealed in the sight of drunken, vile, debauched humanity kneeling down to give itself to a life of purity and Christlikeness—oh, it was surely a witness to the superhuman in the world! And the face of Rollin Page by the side of that miserable wreck out of the gutter—she could recall as if she now saw it Virginia crying, with her arms about her brother, just before she left the tent, and Mr. Gray kneeling close by, and the girl Virginia had taken into her heart bending her head while Virginia whispered something to her. All these pictures, drawn by the Holy Spirit in the human tragedies brought to a climax there in the most abandoned spot in all Raymond, stood out in Rachel's memory now, a memory so recent that her room seemed for the time being to contain all the actors and their movements.

"No, not!" she had said aloud. "He had no right to speak to me after all that! He should have respected the tent where our thoughts should have been. I am sure I do not love him, not enough to give him my life."

And after she had thus spoken the evening's experience at the tent came crowding in again, thrusting out all other things. It is perhaps the most striking evidence of the tremendous spiritual factor which had now entered the Rectangle that Rachel felt, even when the great love of a strong man had come very near her, that the spiritual manifestation moved her with an agitation far greater than anything Jasper had felt for her personally or she for him.

The people of Raymond now look Sunday morning to a growing knowledge of events which were beginning to revolutionize many of the regular customary habits of the town. Alexander Powers' action in the matter of the railroad franchise had created a sensation, not only in Raymond, but throughout the country. Edward Norman's daily changes of policy in the conduct of his paper had startled the community and caused more comment than any recent political event. Rachel Winslow's singing at the Rectangle meetings had made a stir in society and excited the wonder of all her friends. Virginia Page's conduct, her presence every night with Rachel, her absence from the usual circle of her wealthy, fashionable acquaintances, had furnished a great deal of material for gossip and question. In addition to the events which centered about these persons who were so well known, there had been all through the city, in very many homes and in business and social circles, strange happenings. Nearly a hundred persons in Henry Maxwell's church had made the pledge to do everything after asking,
"What would Jesus do?" and the result had been, in many cases, unheard of action. The city was stirred as if had never been. As a climax to the week's events had come the spiritual manifestation at the Rectangle and the announcement, which came to most people before church time, of the actual conversion at the tent of nearly 50 of the worst characters in the neighborhood, together with the conversion of Rollin Page, the well known society and club man.

It is no wonder that under the pressure of all this, the First church of Raymond came to the morning service in a condition that made it quickly sensitive to any large throng.

Perhaps nothing had astonished the people more than the great change that had come over the minister since he had proposed to them the initiation of Jesus in conduct. The dramatic delivery of his sermons no longer impressed them. These satisfied, contented, easy attitude of the fine figure and the refined face in the pulpit had been displaced by a manner that could not be compared with the old style of his delivery. The sermon had become a message. It was no longer delivered. It was brought to them with a love, an earnestness, a passion, a desire, a humility, that poured their enthusiasm about the truth and made the speaker no more prominent than he had to be as the living voice of God. His prayers were unlike any the people had ever heard before. They were often broken.
Even once or twice they had been actually ungrammatical in a phrase or two.
When had Henry Maxwell so far forgotten himself in a prayer as to make a mistake of that sort? He knew that he had often taken as much pride in the diction and the delivery of his prayers as of his sermons. Was it possible he now so abhorred the elegant refinement of a formal public pleading that he purposely chose to rob himself for his previous precise manner of prayer? It is more likely that he had no thought of all that. His great longing to voice the needs and wants of his people made him unmindful of an occasional mistake. It is certain he had never prayed so effectively as he did now.

There are times when a sermon has a value and power due to conditions in the audience rather than to anything new or startling or eloquent in the words or the arguments presented. Such conditions faced Henry Maxwell this morning as he preached against the sin latter, according to his purpose determined on the week before. He had no new statements to make about the evil influence of the saloon in Raymond.

What new facts were there? He had no startling illustrations of the power of the saloon in business or politics. What could he say that had not been said by temperance orators a great many times?
The effect of his message this morning owed its power to the unusual fact of his preaching about the saloon at all,
together with the events that had stirred the people. He had never in the course of his ten years' pastorate mentioned the saloon as something to be regarded in the light of an enemy, not only to the poor and the tempted, but to the business life of the place and the church itself. He spoke now with a freedom that seemed to measure his complete sense of the conviction that Jesus would speak so. At the close he pleaded with the people to remember the new life that had begun at the Rectangle. The regular election of city officers would be an issue in that election.
What of the poor creatures surrounded by the hell of drink while just beginning to feel the joy of deliverance from sin? Who could tell what depended on their environment? Was there one word to be said by the Christian disciple, business man, professional man, citizen, in favor of continuing to license these crimes and shame producing institutions? Was not the most Christian thing they could do to act as citizens in the matter, fight the saloon at the polls, elect good men to the city offices and clean the municipality? How much had prayers helped to make Raymond better while votes and actions had really been on the side of the enemies of Jesus? Would not Jesus do this? What disciple could imagine him refusing to suffer or take up his cross in the mat-tery? How much had the members of the First church ever suffered in an attempt to imitate Jesus? Was Christian discipleship a thing of convenience, of custom, of tradition? Where did the suffering come in? Was it necessary, in order to follow Jesus' steps, to go up Calvary as well as the Mount of Transfiguration?

His appeal was stronger at this point than he knew. It is not too much to say that the spiritual tension of the First church reached its highest point right there. The initiation of Jesus which had begun with the volunteers in the church was working like leaven
in the organization, and Henry Maxwell would, even thus early in his new life, have been amazed if he could have measured the extent of desire on the part of his people to take up the cross.
While he was speaking this morning, before he closed with a loving appeal to the discipleship of 2,000 years' knowledge of the Master, many a man and woman in the church was saying, as Rachel had said so passionately to her mother: "I want to do something that will cost me something in the way of suffering. I am hungry to suffer something." Truly, Mazzini was right when he said, "No appeal is quite so powerful in the end as the call, 'Come and suffer.'"

The service was over, the great audience had gone, and Henry Maxwell again faced the company gathered in the lecture room as on the two previous Sundays. He had asked all to remain who had made the pledge of discipleship and any others who wished to be included. The after service seemed now to be a necessity. As he went in and faced the people there his heart trembled. There were at least 200 present.
The Holy Spirit was never so manifest.
He missed Jasper Chase, but all the others were present. He asked Milton Wright to pray. The very air was charged with divine possibilities. What could resist such a baptism of power?
How had they lived all these years without it?

They consorted together, and there were many prayers. Henry Maxwell dated from that meeting some of the serious events that afterward became a part of the history of the First church of Raymond. When finally they went home,

TRAFFIC IS HEAVY

EVERY PITTSBURG ENGINE IS IN USE.

MORE COULD BE EMPLOYED

NEARLY 600 CARS OUT OF CRESTLINE LAST NIGHT.

SOME DEALS IN MACHINERY

THE BASS WORKS AND THE ELECTRIC WORKS BUSY.

At 9 o'clock this morning not a Pennsylvania engine in working shape was in the roundhouse in this city and at the east yards there were long strings of cars awaiting power to move them to their destination. This is a decidedly new situation for September, which in former years was not very productive in the traffic line. A Pennsylvania official said this morning that the company moved 595 cars out of Crestline last night and that 535 of them were loaded. This, the official said, was good business.

SHIPPING DYNAMOS.

Today the Fort Wayne Electric company made several important shipments of electrical machinery, including being a car load to Natchez, Miss., and a car load to Pine Island, Minn. Numerous other shipments were made to various parts of the country, but none of them were in car-load lots.

WILL GO TO CHICAGO.

August Rost, one of the heaters in the Pittsburgh blacksmith shop, resigned last night and will leave in a few days for Chicago, where he has accepted a more lucrative position in the factory of the Siemens-Halske Electric company. Mr. Rost is an expert in his line, having few equals and no superiors here, and the Chicago firm was fortunate in securing his services. He has worked in the Pennsylvania shops ever since he was twelve years old, commencing as a hammer boy in 1884. Samuel Dunbar, another heater, has taken Mr. Rost's place in Owen Barry's gang.

DIRECTORS HOLD A MEETING.

At the electric light works this morning the local directors held a meeting to take a look over the affairs of the institution and to plan for the future. Every feature of the great enterprise presents a most encouraging aspect. Orders are plenty, the plant is constantly being augmented and improved and the list of employees is now very near the maximum in point of numbers.

OLD ENGINEER RETURNS.

Theodore Titus, one of the veterans at the throttle, has returned from Blanchester, Ohio, where he visited the friends of his boyhood days. Mr. Titus left Blanchester forty-one years ago and until this visit had not been back there, yet he found a number of men and women whom he knew and who were his schoolmates back in the fifties. Mr. Titus spent two months at Blanchester and the neighboring towns in eastern Ohio. He was quite sick for a week or two, but otherwise it was one of the most enjoyable visits he ever made. He will resume his work on the Pittsburgh road October 1st.

BORN ON A TRAIN.

Mrs. Sinfrosio Francisco, who with her husband was a passenger on the Nickel Plate, gave birth to a child as the train passed through Grand Crossing yesterday. The woman was removed to the Mary Thompson hospital at Chicago, where she and her babe will remain until they are able to resume their journey to Manila. This little one is believed to be the first Filipino babe born in America.

A DEAL IN MACHINERY.

Yesterday the Bass works contracted to build a 250-horse power Corliss engine and two 150-horse power boilers for a party in Baltimore, Md. The contract also includes the heaters, pumps, smokestacks and other appurtenances of a steam plant. There came to the Bass works yesterday also an unusually large number of orders for wheels, castings and forgings, but none of the orders were of unusual importance.

THE PROVISION RATE WAR.

If rate wars are ever amusing, the Burlington and Kansas City and Memphis roads must be having great fun in their fight to throw away revenue on packing-house products shipped, respectively, from Omaha and Kansas City to southeastern points, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. By six successive cuts since September 1 the Burlington has brought down the rate, Omaha to Memphis, from 27 cents to 9 cents per 100 pounds, while its antagonist has correspondingly reduced the rate, Kansas City to Memphis, from 21 cents to 1 cent, and at last accounts was, therefore, preserving the great principle of a 6 cent differential, for which it is struggling. Similarly, the rate Omaha to the Ohio river has been cut by the Burlington from 23 cents to 5 cents, so that for the haul from Omaha to Kansas City it gets only 2 cents. A seventh cut of 3 cents, if met, would oblige the Memphis road to carry from Kansas City to Memphis for nothing—which would be humorous in the extreme and also foolish. Shippers are entering into the hilarious spirit of the affair, says the Railway Age, and extending the fun by billing to Arkansas points via Memphis, using the cut rate to the latter point and saving 2 cents per 100 pounds over the tariff rate to Little Rock and other Arkansas places. This discovery extends the limits of the war beyond the expectations of the combatants and may induce reflection. Up to date neither side is ahead, both are losing heavily, and the 6 cents differential between the rival cities still stands.

RELIEF IN GOOD SHAPE.

Fred G. Olds, the recently elected member of the advisory board of the Pennsylvania Voluntary Relief association, has just closed his first official canvass of the field and says he found the association's affairs in good shape. The association is growing steadily and now includes about 97 per cent of the employees of the western division of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago, over which Mr. Olds has jurisdiction. Mr. Olds will resume his duties in the shop tomorrow.

VANDALIA EXCURSION.

Thursday is the date of the annual excursion of the people who live along the line of the Vandalia road to points in Ohio, and they will pass through this city on a special train some time that morning. The farmers in the territory through which the Vandalia passes are mostly Buckeyes or descendants of Buckeyes and are all connected more or less directly with people residing in Ohio and the excursions are always well patronized.

GUARDS PASS THROUGH TOWN.

A handsomely uniformed body of men were passengers on Wabash train No. 2 this morning. A banner on the special car occupied by them imparted the information that the men composed the Whitehall Guards, of Meridian, Miss., and that they were going to New York to participate in the Dewey reception. They were all young fellows and were a handsome lot.

A SICK ENGINEER.

Henry Jones, the popular passenger engineer, is a very sick man and his friends express considerable anxiety over the result of the attack. Mr. Jones' illness appears to be a general break-up incident to old age, he being over seventy years old. His services with the Pittsburgh road dates from the time the line was in course of construction, and it has never been severed, though he has frequently taken a week or two for excursions in search of recreation and pleasure. No man enjoys the good will of his fellow men to a greater extent than does Mr. Jones.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

The Wabash pay car was in the city this morning.

Michael Gans, of the Pittsburgh Smith shop, is sick.

F. J. Gallagher, a brakeman, became a Nickel Plate employee yesterday.

Engineers S. T. Hooper and C. Bromelmeier, of the Nickel Plate, are off duty, the latter on account of sickness.

H. W. Linneman, who has been employed in the Pittsburgh tank shop for a few weeks, quit his position this morning to engage in other work.

The International Order of Railway Men, which is but two years old, claims now to have 83,000 members.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Goslee are home after a week's visit with Chicago friends. Mr. Goslee is a Nickel Plate brakeman.

After an absence of three weeks on account of sickness, John Lulander, a Nickel Plate fireman, reported for duty yesterday.

H. Rust, of the lumber yards, and J. Fulford, of the planing mills, each suffer from injuries to wrists. Neither accident is serious.

Henry Roembke, No. 2, who met with an injury a week ago, was able to return to his duties in the Pittsburgh blacksmith shop this morning.

There is a movement on foot looking to the giving of low passenger rates to laborers who wish to go to any field where laborers are in demand.

Thomas D. Sheridan, for over twenty-five years northern passenger agent of the Grand Trunk railway, died at his home in Buffalo Saturday night.

At the Ohio Falls car works, in the passenger car department, more work is in progress and more men employed than at any time within the last seven years.

Engineers and firemen on the Union Pacific road will present their grievances to the officials in a few days and expect a speedy and amicable adjustment.

An immense stand pipe, 12x112 feet, left the Bass works this morning for DuQuoin, Ill. Robert Shellheimer will leave in a few days to set the stand pipe up.

All the roads are arranging to give low rates to Chicago on the occasion of its fall festival. Tickets will be placed on sale October 2, good to return until October 10.

John Deegan, of the Pittsburgh blacksmith shop, and his family, left this morning for New York, expecting to spend about two weeks with old friends and relatives.

J. J. Lynch, the tinner, has returned from Grand Rapids, where he was visiting relatives a week or two. He resumed his work in the Pittsburgh shop this morning.

J. M. Ehrman, the car inspector at the east yards, who had a leg badly pinched some days ago, is improving, though slowly. It may be several weeks before he can resume work.

The Philadelphia and Reading has prepared plans for new shops at Reading. The new plant will be one of the most extensive in the country and equipped with the newest appliances.

James Humphrey, Pennsylvania tie inspector, left this morning for Ironton, Ohio, where he will inspect a number of ties for the company. The ties came from West Virginia and Kentucky.

The Great Northern has decided to require a $1,000 bond from each of its passenger conductors for the purpose of indemnifying the company against any loss that may be incurred through their fault.

A. Bailey resumed his duties in the Pittsburgh lumber yards this morning. Ten days ago he had one of his feet badly bruised, a board falling upon it. Mr. Bailey also serves as cook on the wreck car whenever his services in that line are needed.

THINK INSURANCE SINFUL.

Litchfield, Ill., Sept. 26.—At Mount Olive last week a conference of the preachers of the German Lutheran church in the district assembled to discuss the relation of life insurance to God's written word. They held that money and goods can be rightly obtained in only three ways—by work, by gift or by inheritance. Money secured by life insurance is the result of good luck or a species of a game of chance; that life insurance is against the first commandment, because it takes man's trust of God and places it on the insurance company; that it is against the seventh commandment, because by it the beneficiary gets something not paid for, therefore stolen; that it is against the ninth commandment, because the person who invests in life insurance is taught to covet something not his own. They held therefore that life insurance is sinful. About eighty ministers attended the conference and the sessions lasted several days. The results of their deliberations have been embodied in a number of resolutions and these will be distributed among their followers.

D. K. Wagner, of Marvel, Ark., arrived in the city last evening for a visit with friends. Mr. Wagner is engaged in getting out timber for the Standard Wheel works.

MORMONS LABOR.

A GREAT GROWTH GOING IN THIS SECTION.

PAN-PRESBYTERIAN COUNCIL

OVER A THOUSAND CONVERTS ARE REPORTED.

DELEGATES WILL NUMBER 400

NORTHERN INDIANA PICKED OUT FOR WORKING.

Anderson, Ind., Sept. 26.—Mormonism is gaining a firm footing in the north central states. The report which was submitted at the annual conference in this city this week by Elder Louis A. Kelsch, president of the North Central mission, which includes the eleven states north of the Ohio and the Arkansas, was a great surprise to even the elders who have served at the missions in the field.

Three years ago the Mormons began their work in this section, which takes in Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Nebraska, Dakota—North and South—Wisconsin and Minnesota. The first year there were very few converts. The next year there were a few more, while during the third year just closed, the number of converts and baptisms have been twice as great as during the first two years. There are now 1,100 baptized and accepted Mormons in the section named, distributed as follows:

State.	Elders	Con-	Work-
		verts.	ing.
Illinois	250	51
Missouri	100	20
Iowa	100	18
Indiana	275	42
Michigan	75	16
Wisconsin	100	20
Minnesota	75	17
Dakotas—North and South	100	20
Nebraska	60	12

DON'T PREACH POLYGAMY.

Though the missionaries who come into the field from Utah believe in polygamy and say it is a part of their religion, they are not preaching its introduction. They abide, they say, by the laws of 1890 against polygamy, and while they do not believe the law a right one, they are not, they say, inclined to fight it.

The feeling against Mormonism was very bitter in the states in which the missionary work has been done during the last three years, and in some cities the feeling against the elders has reached such a pitch that they have been stoned out of the city, or conducted to the limits and told to stay out. In one or two cities the workers have been rotten-egged and other indignities have been heaped upon them. In almost all cities they have been barred from the churches and have been preached against from Protestant and Catholic pulpits. They have doubled their efforts at these points just as soon as the excitement subsided and have in a number of cases established their churches and mission organizations.

WORK WITHOUT PAY.

The Mormon workers accept no pay, ask no alms, take up no collections, but maintain themselves at their own expense. They get nothing from the church at Salt Lake, from which they are sent out, and they must foot all of their expenses from their own pockets. To do this they must either have parents behind them or work a year and preach a year. Many of them have to borrow money before they get home. They are in a sense martyrs to their religion and to the tenet of that belief which makes it a grievous fault to place a market price upon the work of salvation. The missionary elders are as a general rule young men from twenty to thirty-five years of age, who have good educations and have had training in the temple at Salt Lake City. They have been educated in the common schools of Utah, which they claim stand fourth in the United States. Utah illiteracy at least, is the fourth lowest.

EFFORT IS WORLD-WIDE.

There are at present about 3,000 missionaries out in the work, about 1,250 of them being in the southern states. They have 300 in Europe and are doing effective work in the Sandwich islands, New Zealand, the Pacific and Society islands, Tahiti, Australia and Samoa. They claim a following now of 300,000 active communicants, 250,000 of whom are located in Utah, Idaho, Arizona, Wyoming and California. They are meeting with very great success in Old Mexico. Where the laws of the country do not conflict, they are preaching the practice of polygamy. Elder M. F. Crowley, of Salt Lake City, one of the twelve apostles who direct the affairs of the church and occupy the same relative position to the church that the bishops do to the Methodist organization, has been presiding at the conference. He claims that Mormonism is making greater gains in the United States today than any other belief. He is confident that the day is not far distant when the "prejudices," as he terms them, will be removed and Mormonism and its teachings will have better consideration at the hands of the public.

POINTS TO BE LOOKED AFTER.

Special efforts will be made during the ensuing year in Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Michigan and Iowa. Twenty-one elders have been put to work in Chicago, and Elder Kelsch will enter the work at that point also. Five have been assigned to special work in St. Louis. Indianapolis is to be another central point for work. The cities in Indiana selected for special campaigns during the ensuing year are Indianapolis, Fort Wayne, Evansville, Terre Haute, Anderson, Elwood, Peru, Bluffton, New Albany, Jeffersonville, Gas City, Haughville, Madison, Lawrenceburg, Vevay, and South Bend. Forty-two missionary elders will conduct this work. During the last year four congregations have been established in this one state, and it is thought this will be increased to ten during the ensuing year. In Illinois the greatest work will be done at Chicago, Bloomington, Joliet, Aurora, Rock Island, Moline, Springfield, Kankakee, Danville and Cairo, while in Missouri the work will be specially centered on St. Louis, Kansas City, Joplin, St. Joseph and Sedalia and northern towns.

VOLCANIC ERUPTIONS

Are grand, but Skin Eruptions rob life of joy. Bucklen's Arnica Salve cures them; also Old Running and Fever Sores, Ulcers, Boils, Felons, Corns, Warts, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Best Pile cure on earth. Drives out Pains and Aches. Only 25c a box. Cures guaranteed. Sold by Dreier & Bro., druggists.

MASONIC MATTERS.

To be at the head of a great fraternity with a membership of about 35,000 is no small matter, and William Genke, of this city, grand master of the Indiana grand lodge of Masons, finds that the duties of his position demand a great part of his time. Thursday Mr. Genke goes to Southport, Ind., where he will officiate at the laying of the corner stone of a new Masonic Temple. October 17 he will participate in a similar ceremony for a new U. B. church at Kokomo. Later in the month, at Madison, a monument to Alexander C. Meek, the second grand master of Indiana, (1818-1820) will be unveiled with impressive ceremonies by the Indiana grand lodge. Intervening between these occasions are numerous other dates and a multiplicity of official duties that keep Grand Master Genke busy the greater part of the time.

HIS LIFE WAS SAVED.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever, that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Dreier & Bro.'s drug store; every bottle guaranteed.
